ECOLOGIC

Spoerry is GOTS approved and spearheading organic cotton movement since almost 25 years and have additionally a long experience in blending various organic GOTS certified fibres.

At Spoerry, any other organic fibres, such as for example wool, linen or silk can be blended with organic cotton to produce new organic certified yarn creations.

Over the years, organic cotton yarns established to become an omnipresent part of Spoerry's yarn collection, as more and more weight is laid towards the support of biodiversity and healthy ecosystems without the use of harmful chemicals, improved quality of soil and less water used during the growth of cotton.

Organic farming requires more knowledge, skill and is more time consuming, but resulting in a more sustainable fibre.

Today Spoerry Organic GOTS cotton certified is equal or better in quality compared to "normal" cotton.
